

Are you looking for a job?

Have you always wanted to find a job but are not sure how to go about it?

The WorkReady program at Amicus could be for you!

What is WorkReady about?

WorkReady is a program that supports people with a disability who would like to find work. When it comes to deciding what type of work you would like to do there are lots of choices to make.

Everyone has different goals and ideas about what they would like to do. When you start the WorkReady program with Amicus we will work with you to develop a plan that will tell us about the type of work you would like to do and the support you would like us to provide so you can achieve that goal. We will then build a flexible and tailored program of support based around the things you need to do, what you like doing and what you want to achieve.

What support can I get from WorkReady?

WorkReady will provide a range of support options to assist you to achieve your work goals. The types of support that might be included in your plan are:

- Accredited training in your chosen area of work.
- Fully supported job placements.
- A work sampling program where you can try out different types of work.
- Support to access employment including Job Services Australia providers.
- Interview and resume preparation.
- General and industry specific Occupational Health and Safety training
- Good work habits.
- Employee Rights and Responsibilities.

How can I join WorkReady?

To be part of the WorkReady you will need to have funding from an Individual Support Package or Futures For Young Adults. The easiest way to find out if you can join WorkReady is to give us a call. We would be happy to provide you with further information and how to join.
